

MONDAY, JANUARY 25, 1886.

An appropriation of $26,000,000 is asked of the present Congress to begin the construction of heavy ordnance required for coast defenses.

The report of the Fortifications Board estimates that it will require $126,000,000 to establish a good system of coast defenses for this country.

Some recent sickness at Palatka, Fla., is attributed to the eating of frozen oranges. One of the papers claims that the poison of the peel is driven in by the frost.

Rev. Dr. Haywood estimates the number of colored children attending school in the South at 1,000,000. Since the close of the civil war between $400,000 and $500,000,000 have been expended in the education of the colored children in the South alone.

The committee to investigate the charges of bribery in the Ohio Senatorial election two years ago will begin work it is said by summoning John R. McLean, Senator Payne, Oliver Payne, Robert Reese and a number of other prominent individuals to tell what they know about it. The committee does not intend to allow any "monkeying," but will lift the thing to the bottom and unearth the corruption if there is any to be found.

The verdict in the case where Mrs. Mary J. Day recovered $10,000 from some stock brokers because her husband had lost it through their without her authority, indicates that the marriage state is much safer for Wall street crooks than for the blameless. And so it is with every transaction of life. Matrimony is the best.—[New York Sun.]

Can it be that the author of the above is some poor, "hen-pecked" husband, who is trying to play a cruel joke on some of his bachelor friends by inducing them to take "a few" leap into the unfathomable abyss of matrimony?

A CORRESPONDENT of the Louisville Commercial discloses a disgraceful state of affairs in the clerk's office of the Court of Appeals. Capt. Thomas Henry the present incumbent hasn't been in Frankfort for three or four months and whenever he does make his appearance there, he gets on a big drunk and so conducts himself that the Judges are glad when he leaves. If the charges are true he should be "bounced" from his office without ceremony.

CHARLES J. CANDA was lately appointed Assistant Treasurer of the United States at New York. Some people attribute Canda's luck to the fact that a picture of Cleveland, in a horse-shoe frame, has occupied a prominent place for some time in the elevator by which Canda daily reached his office. If this fact becomes known to the lord of hungry office-seekers throughout the country, we may expect a boom in two things, at least—horse-shoes and Cleveland photographs.

The scenes enacted in the Ohio Senate last Friday were a disgrace to the fair name of the Buckeye State. Some of her Republican politicians and tricksters seem bent on ruining or ruining. The action of Lieutenant-Governor Kennely in refusing to let Senators vote who the Supreme Court of the State had decided were elected and entitled to seats, was certainly a piece of unparalleled impudence. It was revolutionary in its character, and will certainly tend to create a disrespect for the laws and the courts. There is no telling where the matter will end. As it is now, the State has two Senates.

The Fall River correspondent of the Boston Globe in speaking of the cotton manufacturing interests of that place says: "The record of 1885 is a very bright one, even when compared with the dull business of 1883 and 1884. But to-day, with a stock of goods lower than has been known for years, and with the enormous quantity of 1,935,000 pieces sold ahead, our manufacturers enter upon the new year with strong hopes of an improving business. Already the indications of a brisk spring trade are accumulating, and the print works even now are forced to run extra time to keep up with its orders."

"It is Kentucky we should seek to arouse a deeper interest in," says the Louisville Courier-Journal. "Our public school system should be decidedly improved and its benefits extended, and no discussion held at our public schools is more worthy of attention than those in the Joint Committee on Education."

If we are not very much mistaken the present school law authorizes each district to levy a tax for school purposes and a bill to that effect would simply be a repetition of the law. If an act could be passed compelling each district to levy a tax then we might expect to see such a thing done and we might hope to see better schools in a short time. There isn't one district in a hundred that will levy a tax unless it be made compulsory upon them to do so. And yet there is nothing more evident than the fact that the bettering of our public schools now depends upon local taxation alone. The State has done her part.

ABOUT MR. CLEVELAND.

SOME STRONG FLOATING RUMORS FORCIBLY DENIED.

The President Has Received No Request From the Senate For Any Papers Touching Appointments—He Has Not Received or Changed His Mind—Guesswork.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—There has been a great deal published of late respecting the attitude of the president in regard to furthering the senate with reasons for removing Federal office holders; but the exact facts in the case appear to have been exaggerated. The United Press has the very best authority for the following statements: The president has received no communication or request from the senate for any papers touching appointments or suspensions, and has made no announcement or stated to anyone what he would do if such a request is made. He has had no talk with any Republican senator concerning the matter, and has in no manner receded from or changed his position.

Requests for reasons for suspensions and appointments have been made by some of the committees of the senate through their chairman or clerks, of the cabinet officers, and they have responded with papers showing the fitness of the appointees, and the statement as yet they have not been directed to furnish the president's reasons for his act of suspension.

In the case of Armstrong, the suspended internal revenue collector at Utica, N. Y., the answer was substantially that the removal was made for the good of the public service and in the exercise of the discretion vested in him, the president. No other reason has been given. When the president is asked for reasons for his acts he will answer, and until then all announcements and declarations as to his position may be regarded as guesses.

THE BLIZZARD.

Cold and Howling at 57 Below—News From Our Points.

St. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 25.—The blizzard, which has been raging since Thursday, the worst ever known among the railroads for years, is every now and then blowing and blowing at a terrific rate, filling cuts, and in the southern portion of the country impossible to keep them clear long enough to run trains. The Southern Minnesota division of the Milwaukee railroad have been abandoned.

It was 57 degrees below zero at St. Vincent last night. The second division of the St. Louis road, south of Albert Lea, is abandoned, and their 320 train for St. Louis will not run until storm abates. The Burlington & Northern is also badly blocked.

In Iowa.

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, Jan. 25.—A blizzard struck this section at 2 o'clock this morning and everything is snowed in, with the winds still high. The thermometer at 9 a. m. was 21 degrees below zero. On the railroads the cuts are all filled, and the snow packed hard and solid. No trains can reach here certainly for twenty-four, and likely forty-eight hours.

Fifteen Below.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 25.—Severe cold weather is again prevailing throughout Ontario, accompanied in the northern portion by a heavy snow storm. The thermometer ranged from zero to 15 degrees below. Railway travel is considerably delayed. The Canadian Pacific Atlantic express is snowed up at White river.

Ishkota.

ELLENDALE, Dak., Jan. 25.—Last night came the coldest weather this winter. It snowed all night with strong north wind drifting the snow badly. The thermometer this morning was 49 degrees below. The storm has passed and now it is clear.

SIOUT FALLS, Dak., Jan. 25.—Last night's blizzard let up to-day, though the temperature has fallen from zero to 35 degrees below. The snow has drifted badly and packed hard. All trains are blocked.

TERRIBLE REVENGE.

A Child Attempts to Burn Her Employer's House and Cremate His children.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Alice Halter, a prepossessing girl of fourteen, was arrested in a charge of arson in the first degree. She desired to go to a party with the family of her employer, John J. Berger. They refused to take her. When they had gone she plotted a terrible revenge. She put the two children to bed, and then gathering some papers and other inflammable articles, piled them up in the bed room, and also in the pantry. After saturating the pile with coal oil she set them on fire.

She then started for the kitchen, and found that the children, who she supposed was asleep, had fortunately returned in time to put out the pantry fire. Seeing smoke issuing from the sleeping apartment, she rushed in there and succeeded in stamping out the flames. Mr. Berger prepared a charge of arson against Alice, and she was arrested and held for trial.

ONE THOUSAND STRIKE.

Carpet Weavers Go Out for an Advance of One Cent.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25.—The Ingrain carpet workers, in accordance with the decision of the meeting of delegates representing the various carpet mills in the Kensington district, this city, went out on a strike. The strikers demand an advance of one cent and one out of every four cents per yard for cost of the principal carpet factories in Kensington.

A meeting of the strikers will be held in Spirituality hall, to take measures to maintain the strike. It is stated that they are all prepared for the movement.

READING, Pa., Jan. 25.—Malignant diphtheria prevails in the northern portion of this county to an alarming extent. Between twenty-five and thirty deaths have occurred within a short time within a radius of five miles. The disease has now broken out in the eastern portion of Richmond township, and numerous deaths are reported every day.

Chang Sues a City.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—A number of Chinese residents of San Francisco have filed a suit in United States court against the city of San Francisco, for $130,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained from the loss of property at the time of their expulsion from that city.

DELUGED WITH WATER.

Terrible Destruction and Loss of Life in the San Fernando Valley.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—The steamer Oreana has arrived from Los Angeles, and brings details of the devastation produced by the storm in that city and vicinity. The rains of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were reinforced by a cloudburst in San Fernando on the last named day, and Los Angeles Valley river, almost without warning, became a raging torrent, and soon flooded the southern part of the center of the town. The water also covered over 5,000 acres of orchards and vineyards, and rose two feet higher than the flood of February, 1884.

Over fifty houses were washed away or completely wrecked. Every bridge across the Los Angeles river was swept away and hundreds of feet of track of the Southern Pacific and local railroads. Telegraph poles were included in the general destruction, and for three days they were cut off from telegraphic and railroad communication with the rest of the world. Mrs. Kate Lytle and Theresa Whitney, daughter of Thomas Whitney, a carpenter, were drowned while being rescued from their partially wrecked house. A number of other lives are believed to have been lost, and a large quantity of stock also perished. The damage to property in the city and county of Los Angeles is estimated at $500,000.

THE COKE STRIKE.

Six Thousand Men Out and the Movement Daily Growing.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25.—The strikers in the coke regions have been quite orderly the past twenty-four hours. Mass meetings are held everywhere and organization is being rapidly effected. Over six thousand men are now out, and all are united in the purpose to stay out until the old rates are restored.

He Lived High.

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 25.—A. M. Wheeler, water superintendent, whose accounts have been under examination, has fled hastily selling his homestead and personal property. His deficits estimated from $8,000 to $12,000, which he has squandered in riotous living.

Wholesale Killing.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 25.—On the night of the 19th inst., Daniel Gray, "Dinn" Stevens, Theodore Berger, and George Gray, went to the house of Kate Harney, in Manchester, Ky., and began quarreling about her. A deadly fire at the same time and twenty-two shots were exchanged. Dan Gray, Stevens, and Berger, were killed instantly, and George Gray was shot three times and so badly hurt that he cannot recover. When the shooting began the woman fled from the house, and can give no particulars. All of the men were farmers.

The Fifth of the News in Brief for Hasty Readers.

Next Thursday, January 28, will be observed as a day of prayer throughout the United States and Canada for colleges, students and Young Men's Christian associations.

The mine horror at Newburg, W. Va., is as bad as at first reported. Thirty-nine lives were lost. The incident was reported, as it was found impossible to bring up the bodies before that time.

Charles A. Closs, a wealthy young married man in Chicago, shot and killed his mistress in a disreputable house, and then killed himself. His young wife is prostrated with grief and alarm.

The articles of furniture in one of the rooms of the house of Mr. W. T. Durbin, of Anderson, Ind., are so highly charged with electricity that some persons cannot touch them without suffering a severe shock. The phenomenon is without explanation.

AN ACTRESS ARRESTED.

Alleged Mother of Five Deserted Children.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 25.—Mrs. Vincent, the actress, at present a member of Gus Williams' "Oh, Bunch," was arrested, and taken to the county jail, after she had been arrested for deserting her five children here, and it was reported afterward that she had gone on the stage. Mrs. Vincent, mother-in-law of the runaway, into whose care the children had been left, says Mrs. Vincent on the street and believed her to be the woman.

Aside from the close resemblance of the two, the old lady became confused over the names, Della Williams, that of her daughter-in-law, and Gus Williams, that of the star whom Mrs. Vincent is supporting. The whole company escorted the actress to the squire's office, and confronted the old lady. The latter at first was very positive that the prisoner was the heartless mother. It was useless for Mrs. Vincent to declare her age, which did not correspond with that of Mrs. Curry, Jr., or to affirm that she never had a child, had been on the stage over thirty years, and was in Pottsville for the first time. The old lady was ultimately asked the color of the eyes of the missing mother. She said it was brown. The squire looked into Mrs. Vincent's eyes. They were blue. She was released.

TRICHINÆ.

A Family of Norwegians at Death's Door.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 25.—Michael Browlowski, a Bohemian, and his family, consisting of his wife and six children, are lying very sick at their home on Union street, from the effects of eating raw pork. The family a few days ago bought a quantity of pork of which the family partook liberally, and were immediately made very ill. A physician was called and an examination showed that the meat was strongly impregnated with trichinæ.

Medicines were administered and the family had so far recovered that they were thought to be out of danger, when they again partook of the same pork. Michael Browlowski and his wife are now lying at the point of death. The physician says that they proposed to leave the country, when the Bohemians set up a terrible clatter and strenuously objected to any such proceeding.
